CONSULTATION NOTICE

There is no charge for the initial 30 minute consultation. After the first 30 minutes, the attorney's regular hourly rate will apply – you will be given the opportunity to end the consultation before any charges accrue. Your questions about legal fees and legal services are invited and encouraged. However, during the initial consultation, the attorney does NOT provide legal advice. Any discussion of legal issues during the initial consultation is on a general basis and is not intended and does not address the specific legal issues of your situation. No services will be performed on your behalf, either during or after the initial consultation, without a separate written and signed employment contract. Until such employment contract is executed, this law firm does not represent you in any capacity.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have read and understand all of the above information, and I also acknowledge that this document is not an employment contract for legal services. If you do not understand or agree with all of the above information, the attorney will gladly explain any part of this document that you have questions or concerns about. Additionally, you are under no obligation to sign this document. But if you decide for any reason not to sign this Consultation Notice, we will be unable to provide you with an initial consultation.

The State Bar investigates and prosecutes professional misconduct committed by Texas attorneys. Although not every complaint against or dispute with a lawyer involves professional misconduct, the State Bar's office of general counsel will provide you with information about how to file a complaint if you feel one is warranted. You may call 1-800-932-1900 for more information.
